1. To experience intimidation, humiliation, or unwarranted distress; or
2. Substantial physical or psychological harm as a result of intimidation, humiliation, or unwarranted distress.
3. Conduct which exploits an employee's known disability also constitutes abusive conduct.

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

BRCS is committed to providing an environment free from harassment and other forms of discrimination based upon sex, race, color, ethnic background, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, creed, age, citizenship, disability, and/or veteran status. It is the belief of BRCS that an environment free from discrimination and harassment is a necessary part of a healthy learning and working atmosphere. Listed below are examples of Impermissible Discrimination and/or Harassment:

1. Verbal conduct such as derogatory or degrading comments.
2. Visual conduct such as derogatory posters, cartoons, drawings, letters, notes, or gestures.
3. Physical conduct such as assault, offensive or unwelcome touching, or interference with school studies, courses, programs, or activities.

Discrimination, harassment and retaliation are prohibited by Title IV, VI, and VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Employment discrimination is also prohibited by the Utah Anti-Discrimination Act, UCA 34A-5. BRCS is committed to eliminating illegal discrimination through education and administrative support.

Sexual Harassment

All students should enjoy a school environment free from all forms of discrimination, including ones that pertain to: sexual harassment, sexual orientation, and or any unwelcome sexual advances or comments. Sexual harassment is illegal, and will not be tolerated anywhere at Bear River Charter School. The subjecting of another student or faculty member to unwelcome sexual advances, sexually oriented comments, or harassment based on sexual orientation is strictly prohibited.

Definition

Sexual harassment may be in the form of student to student, student to employee, affiliate or visitor to student (vice versa), or employee to student misconduct. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of sexual nature when: (a) Submission to such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of an individual's employment, grades or other good standing, or (b) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive school environment.

Sexual harassment can take a variety of forms ranging from subtle pressure to physical assault. Although all facts and circumstances will be considered, some examples of sexual harassment may include:

1. Threats of sexual relations or sexual contact.
2. Continuous or repeated verbal abuses of a sexual nature including graphic comments on a person's body, or sexuality.
3. Sexually degrading words to describe the person or proposition of a sexual nature.
4. Sexual remarks, jokes or gestures that may embarrass or offend others.
5. Stalking will be considered a form of harassment and will be dealt with accordingly.

Within the educational environment, sexual harassment is prohibited between students, between employees and students, between non-employees and students, between and employees, and between employees and other persons.

Abusive Conduct and Harassment Complaint Procedures

Informal Resolution:

Employees, students, or other individuals who become aware of conduct that may constitute sexual harassment should, in many cases, directly inform the persons engaging in such conduct that such conduct is offensive and must stop. This may not be appropriate in cases of egregious conduct.

Employees, students, or other individuals who feel aggrieved because of conduct that may constitute sexual harassment shall inform the principal or counselor so that they may take remedial action.

Formal Complaints:

1. Complaints brought by students – an aggrieved student should file a written complaint with the principal
2. Complaints brought by employees or other individuals – an employee or other individual should file a written complaint with either the principal or Board
3. The informal resolution procedures set forth above are not a precondition to the filing of a complaint.

BULLYING

Bullying, hazing, and retaliation for reporting incidents of bullying or hazing reduce a student's ability to achieve academically and reduces an employee's ability to perform their job responsibilities. In addition, bullying, hazing, and retaliation can directly affect a student's or an employee's health and well-being, and may contribute to excessive absences, physical illness, mental and emotional anguish, and long-term social and psychological consequences. The Board encourages educators, employees, students, and parents to develop procedures to stop and prevent bullying, hazing, and retaliation by reporting incidents of bullying or hazing to the BRCS administration.
